A LOUISVILLE woman has sued a man for $5,000 damages for hugging her. Oh, woman, in thy hours of ease, uncertain coy and hard to please; some can't get enough hugging and others are easy to appease. —Harrodsburg Democrat.

The old log cabin once occupied by Col. Robert Patterson, the founder of Lexington, has been purchased by John H. Patterson, President of the National Cash Register Company, and is being removed to Dayton, Ohio.

EVERY lady in Paris, Bourbon and adjoining counties will be present at the millinery opening to-day and to-morrow of Mrs. Corne Watson Baird. No stock of millinery in the State can excel the one she has purchased for the fall trade.

The Fiscal Court met yesterday, and after passing upon the accounts and fixing the salaries for next year, adjourned until Nov. 15th, when an election of Keeper of Infirmary, Turnpike Commissioners and other officers will be held.

HINTON & Co. this week sold to Mr. Sandusky, of Indiana, the Bourbon Steam Laundry. Mr. Sandusky took charge of the plant on October first. Mr. Sandusky, in the few visits he has made to Paris during the past month has made many friends. He comes well recommended, and it is believed he will keep the laundry up to the same high standard of his predecessors.

MILLINERY that is new, stylish and thoroughly up-to-date is what will be found at Mrs. Corne Watson Baird's handsome establishment. The opening days—to-day and to-morrow—will bring together ladies from not only Paris and Bourbon county, but from the neighboring counties as well, as the fame of her exquisite taste has spread to the extreme boundaries of the State.

Fire Last Evening.

Last evening at 7:30 the fire department was called from box 27. The stable and laundry of the Bourbon Female College was on fire and burned to the ground. For a time it looked as though the main building would be destroyed, but by the excellent work of the fire department, it was confined to the out-buildings.

Yesterday being ironing day, a great many clothes of the pupils were lost. The origin of the fire is not known.

Central Kentucky Oil Company.

Attention is called to the advertisement in this issue of the Central Kentucky Oil Company of Paris. This company filed articles of incorporation at Frankfort last week. It owns oil and mineral leases on about 4,800 acres of land in Barren and Allen counties.

The holdings of the company are considered exceedingly choice oil land and the leases were obtained before the present rush and excitement began in these counties. In addition the company holds leases on 2,000 acres in Powell County, Ky. A limited number of shares are offered for sale at $10 per share. Call on address C. Arnsperger, Secretary, Paris, Ky.

W. C. T. U. State Convention.

The State Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in this city Nov. 1-5.

A large delegation of representative workers from all parts of the State is expected, and the convention will have as distinguished guests Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens and Miss Anna Gordon, President and Vice President of the National organization of the same society.

Mrs. Stevens is the successor in office of Miss Frances Willard, and Miss Gordon was Miss Willard's private secretary for years.

Extensive preparations are being made by the local Union to entertain the convention in a most hospitable, cordial manner.

Christian Woman's Board of Mission.

The 18th annual convention of the Kentucky Christian Woman's Board of Missions in session at Cynthiana this week, elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Mrs. A. M. Harrison, President, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Elizabeth Sargent, First Vice President, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Mrs. O. E. Hagerman, Second Vice President, Parkland, Ky.; Miss Sue B. Sublette, Secretary, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Nellie Stuckey, Recording Secretary, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Sarah Yancy, Organizer, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. O. L. Bradley, Treasurer, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. W. L. Walden, Superintendent Children's Work, Danville, Ky.

The board employs 143 missionaries, not including native helpers, evangelists and teachers. Eighty-five of these are in the Home. Fifty-eight are in the foreign field. Of the foreign missionaries 42 are women, 16 are men.

"Casey's Wife" Monday.

A combination of Jerusalem and Dublin cannot fail to be most amusing and this is the combination which is to be seen in "Casey's Wife," a farcical comedy which really has a plot and which tells a most amusing story. Roderick Casey went to a ball, drank too much mixed ale and was convinced that he had become the husband of Rebecca Levinisky. His efforts to escape from the charms of the elderly lady from Jerusalem, via Poland, are intensely funny and laughter is continuous from the first scene in Cherry Hill until the curtain finally reaches down at the aliostratic Bath Beach. The play is the work of a New York newspaper man who is thoroughly familiar with his localities and the types he has presented. The characters are all well drawn and Mr. Follett has engaged one of the strongest companies of merry makers that have been gotten together since the days of Russell's Comedians. "Casey's Wife" will be presented at the Grand Monday night. Seats on sale to-morrow morning at the box office of the Grand. Telephone 440.

How to Work It.

Here is a hint for Georgetown ministers who find Sunday collections slow and unsatisfactory. Out in Kansas just before the plates were passed the minister announced that the members who were in debt were not expected to contribute anything. The collection that day was much larger than usual—so large as to greatly exceed the expectations of the minister.

Wealth, Beauty and Fashion.

To-day and to-morrow all the wealth, beauty and fashion of Bourbon and adjoining counties will be assembled in Paris, it being the occasion of the semi-annual opening of Mrs. Corne Watson Baird, the up-to-date milliner. Mrs. Baird's reputation as a milliner is co-extensive with the State. She recognizes no rival. Her stock is always par excellence, comprising everything on the market which is up-to-date. Her opening days each year are the talk of the community for days before and afterwards. Her stock this year is exceptionally fine, being secured on her recent Eastern trip.

Peach Brandy.

In view of the large peach crop, this recipe for making brandy may help solve the problem of what to do with the surplus: Mash 18 pounds of peaches with their stones; macerate them for 24 hours with four and three-quarter gallons of 95 per cent. alcohol and four gallons of water; strain, press and filter; add five pints white plain syrup, color dark yellow, with burnt sugar coloring.

The Masters Case Settled.

As told in the last issue of the News the Masters case has been settled and Mr. Masters was not prosecuted. At a conference of the attorneys, Messrs. Ashbrook and Stitt representing the East Tennessee Company, it was decided to drop the prosecution provided the amount of the defalcation was made good. Mr. Masters' uncle arrived on Friday last from Pennsylvania. He is reported to be quite wealthy, and it is said made good the amount to the telephone company. Mr. Baker, the auditor of the company, has been working night and day on the books since his arrival here some two weeks ago. The period of Mr. Masters' peculations evidently extended from the time of his arrival here about eight months ago, and represented an amount of some $1,800. A great deal of sympathy is felt by our citizens for the young wife and infant baby. Mr. Masters and his uncle left here Monday morning. It is said he has another situation in view in Philadelphia.
